2. Persons implicated : Abdurrahman, café-owner ; Eschref, café-owner, brother-in-law of Abdurrahman ; Rahmi, itinerant merchant ; Husseyin, messenger.

3. It appears from the enquiry that 20 kg. of morphine were put into a suit-case which was handed to Husseyin, by a man said by the latter to be Nessim Tchiprout,¹ with instructions to hand it to an Italian sailor who was to call for it and take it to Italy. Husseyin, however, having failed to receive the sum promised, refused to hand over the suit-case to the sailor when he came for it. On searching the places of residence of the accused, only 4 kg. of morphine were found in Eschref's possession, 1 kg. in that of Abdurrahman, and 1 kg. of raw opium and the empty suit-case in the possession of Husseyin. When questioned about the remaining 15 kg. of morphine, Husseyin said he had destroyed it, throwing all that was left into the sea. Investigations are proceeding.

4. The accused were handed over to the police, together with the drugs seized.

2. Persons implicated : James Pugliese, owner of a fruit-store, Sam Pugliese and Mrs. Sam Pugliese, Italians ; Charles Mulligan and John Murphy.

3. During the investigation into heroin peddling in Toronto in the first six months of 1937,¹ it was ascertained that James Pugliese was the main source of supply, being assisted by Sam Pugliese, his son, and Mrs. Sam Pugliese. The practice was for some fifteen or twenty addicts to meet Murphy or Mulligan each day at a pre-arranged spot and hand him their money. Murphy or Mulligan would then meet James Pugliese, hand over the money and receive instructions as to the time and place where Sam Pugliese or his wife would make delivery an hour or so later. After delivery, Murphy or Mulligan would distribute the heroin in proportion to the money paid in. On June 23rd, Mulligan and Murphy were both arrested after having met Mrs. Sam Pugliese and received a packet from her which was found to contain thirteen capsules of heroin. The premises of Sam Pugliese were searched and a small quantity of heroin found, together with a box of empty gelatine capsules similar to the thirteen seized from Murphy. The premises of James Pugliese were also searched but without result.

4. Murphy was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $200 (620 Swiss gold francs) or a further six months' imprisonment. James Pugliese was sentenced to three years ; Sam Pugliese to eighteen months for conspiracy and twelve months and a fine of $200 or an additional six months for illegal possession. Mulligan was sentenced to twelve months for conspiracy and six months and a fine of $200 or an additional six months for illegal possession. Mrs. Sam Pugliese was given a suspended sentence of six months.

Morphine : 2 grammes (25 grains).

2. Persons implicated : Bessie Ellis, Bessie Cuthbert and Nellie Campbell.

3. It was ascertained that Bessie Ellis had gone to Seattle to obtain, it was believed, a further supply of narcotics for sale in Vancouver. On July 31st, her car passed through the Customs on the way back to Vancouver and was found parked in front of an apartment house in that city. An entrance into the apartment occupied by the accused was forced and the three women found. Two eye-droppers, spoons, etc., were lying on the table, the women having apparently been engaged in taking an injection at the time of the entry of the officers. A condom containing one oz. of heroin was found on Bessie Cuthbert and in a pocket of her coat were found two rubber fingerstalls containing morphine. In the toe of a silk stocking another fingerstall containing 1½ grains of heroin was found. In Bessie Ellis' possession were letters referring to previous trips to Seattle and a note-book in which the expenses incurred by Bessie Cuthbert and herself on the trip just completed had been entered.

4. The accused were each sentenced to six months' imprisonment and a fine of $200 (620 Swiss gold francs) or an additional fourteen days.

3. On the receipt of information that Khartofilakas was dealing in drugs, the authorities gave a confidant marked money and put him into touch with Abu Farid who was Khartofilakas' agent. Abu Farid was arrested with marked money in his possession and an envelope containing packets of heroin . On being questioned, he admitted that he obtained the drug from Khartofilakas. The house of Khartofilakas was then searched and three pieces of glacé paper such as is used for packing drugs and several pieces of the marked money were found. After the arrest of her husband, Christina Khartofilakas employed El Leisi for the distribution of drugs to clients El Leisi was arrested in the possession of a quantity of heroin and confessed that he obtained the drug from her. The flat occupied by Christina was then searched and marked money found but no drugs

4. Nicolas and Christina Khartofilakas were tried by the Greek Consular Court and Nicolas was sentenced to fifteen months' imprisonment and a fine of 100 drachmas (3 Swiss gold francs) Christina was sentenced to two and a half months' imprisonment and a fine of 100 drachmas Abu Farid being sentenced to two years and the second to three years'

2. Persons implicated : Lambro Tsavoulakis, Greek ; Dimitri Christoforou, café-waiter.

3. Christoforou told an informant that Tsavoulakis, who lived in Alexandria, visited Cairo from time to time for the purpose of selling narcotics. A confidant was sent with the informant to act as buyer and arrangements were made with Tsavoulakis for the purchase of 200 grammes of heroin at £E80 (1,280 Swiss gold francs) to be delivered at a certain café. The buyer was sent to the café in question, followed by Bureau agents. The buyer handed over the money to Tsavoulakis who was arrested by the agents. The drug was found in his pocket. The room occupied by Tsavoulakis in a hotel was searched and two bags of white substance were found. This was not a narcotic drug and it appears that Tsavoulakis first presented this substance to buyers with a view to finding out whether or not they were police agents. Christoforou admitted that he helped Tsavoulakis in his smuggling activities, against commission.

4. Tsavoulakis was tried by the Greek Consular Court and sentenced to six months' imprisonment and a fine of 200 drachmas (6 Swiss gold francs). The case against Christoforou is still sub judice.

2. Person implicated : Max Bauer, American citizen of Polish origin.

Report No. 687.

3. The heroin was found by Customs officers in false compartments in three suit-cases, the baggage belonging to Bauer, a third-class passenger on the Normandie. Bauer claimed that the baggage was given him by an unknown man in Paris who paid him $45 to carry it to New York and deliver it to another man, likewise unknown to him, in a certain hotel in New York. He professed that he was unaware that the suit-cases had false compartments or that they contained heroin. The names of Bauer's accomplices have not yet been ascertained.

3. Solliez was searched as he came ashore from the Paris and three bags of heroin were found on him. A search of his bed on board revealed seven more bags and four more bags were found on the top of the thermotank and three more on the top of the carpenter's locker. Solliez denied ownership of these last seven bags. He stated that, before the Paris left Havre, Paul Renoux came aboard with ten bags in a valise and requested him to deliver them to a man in New York who would know Solliez by his wearing apparel.

3. In April 1937, information was received that Musbah Badr El Khatib, Musbah Badr El Khatib, stayed at an hotel. The s.s. Esp other members of the gang might have been carrying the name of Mohammed Nasr Nashabah was found in the passenger's list.

The day after the arrival of the Esperia, the coastguards seized 12 kg. of hashish powder on a tanker lying next to the ship. It is believed that this belonged to the gang and that it had been carried for them by one of the crew who had to jettison it.

Ahmed Suesi was staying at an hotel, a member of the staff of which formed one of the gang. Suesi was watched as well as the other two, but they were never seen in contact with any known drug traffickers and, in due course, they made their various ways back to Syria.

On June 26th, Darwish Badr El Khatib came to Alexandria and was immediately put under surveillance. On June 30th, information was received from Beirut that drugs were on the s.s. Patria and that Musbah Badr El Khatib was coming to Egypt by land. On July 1st, it was found

2. Persons implicated : Hassan Mukhtar, Customs clerk, Spiro Dondoumnakis and Dimitri Vamvoulakis, co-partners of the Café Taverne d'Athènes, George Dondoumnakis, alias George Dounis, a native of Crete, George Antoun.

3. On July 9th, 1937, the Alexandria city police were informed that the proprietors of the Café Taverne d'Athènes, in company with a certain George Antoun, were trafficking in drugs and had in their possession some hashish for which they could not find a buyer. Further, on July 10th, the Secret Service Section of the Alexandria Customs was notified that a certain Hassan Mukhtar was looking for a purchaser for some hashish.

A prospective buyer was therefore introduced to Hassan Mukhtar, who introduced him in turn to the owners of the drug, Spiro Dondoumnakis and Dimitri Vamvoulakis.

Negotiations for the purchase of the hashish took place and during these negotiations it transpired that the partners were also in possession of a quantity of heroin. It was finally arranged that the buyer should purchase everything in their possession and that the final transaction should take place in the house of Vamvoulakis.

The buyer met Mukhtar and Spiro Dondoumnakis on July 15th and went with them to the house, followed by the carrier, Vamvoulakis and Spiro Dondoumnakis. Spiro Dondoumnakis refused to recognise George, who had come to Egypt on May 10th, 1931, and left again on May 27th, 1931. George's passport, issued in Candia in December 1930, had been tampered with, the date of validity and other dates having been changed from 1931 to 1937. He declared that he had come to Egypt only about two months previously on a sailing vessel, but he would not disclose his name or exactly how and where he landed. It is probable that he arrived on the motor vessel Maria, the property of Nicola Nengas and Nicola Avgustis, two well-known Greek smugglers. This vessel was sighted just outside Egyptian territorial waters by the coastguards in May 1937.

4. Mukhtar was sentenced by the Alexandria Narcotics Court to three years' imprisonment and a fine of £EG600 (9,600 Swiss gold francs). Spiro and George Dondoumnakis and Dimitri Vamvoulakis were sentenced by the Greek Consular Court to one and a half year's imprisonment and a fine of 200 drachmae (6 Swiss gold francs) each.

3. Shawish Abdel Baset Osman was arrested at Ezbekiah in possession of the hashish which he was offering for sale. It appeared that he had arrived from El Arish with Hassan Soliman Assr in one of the administration cars which he was taking to Alexandria for repairs. Shawish Abdel Baset stated that he had received the hashish from Hamdan, who had also wanted to give him some opium to smuggle through, but, owing to the heat, he had refused, as he was afraid the smell of the opium might lead to his arrest. He said he had been engaged in smuggling for about seven months, owing to money troubles and that Abdu Rashid Arug had given him 5 kg. of opium to carry to Ismailia, paying him £E10 for this transaction. The houses of both Hamdan and Abdu Rashid in El Arish were searched, but nothing incriminating was found except correspondence confirming that the accused were engaged in smuggling.

4. Abdu Rashid Arug was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and a fine of £E600 (9,600 Swiss gold francs), Shawish Abdel Baset Osman and Hamdan Ismail El Sherif were each sentenced to two years' imprisonment and a fine of £E400 (6,400 Swiss gold francs), Nafar Hassan Soliman Assr was acquitted.

3. On the arrival of the City of Venice at Port Said on August 4th, a detective, posted on board, noticed the accused leaving the cabin of a member of the Indian crew. He was stopped and searched and 30 grammes of hashish found on his person.

On the same day, two coal labourers on a coal-lighter found a tied-up handkerchief containing 400 grammes of hashish. The lighter was then moored alongside the City of Venice and it appears that the labourers had been offered a bribe by a bumboatman to allow the latter to get on to the lighter and withdraw a parcel but, scenting an illegal action, they had refused. No arrests were made in connection with this matter as the labourers were unable to identify the bumboatman in question.

3. Information was received that a quantity of Indian hashish would be disposed of by members of the crew of the Elysia on its arrival at Suez and a search was carried out on board the vessel. The hashish was found in the possession of the three accused.

4. The accused were tried by the British Consular Court. El Sayed Abu Bakr Hussein and Isaac Sherif Ibrahim Sherif were sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment and Zerim Khan Sheridkhan to two weeks' imprisonment. The court further ordered that, if an opportunity of repatriating the prisoners occurred before the expiration of their sentences, they were to be discharged from prison for the purpose.

3. The authorities, acting on information, made an extremely careful search and discovered the hashish underneath the floorboards and below a wooden bed placed in the corner of a room in the barge-master's quarters. Hidden in the same place were found cigarettes of Bulgarian origin which might indicate that the hashish was also of Bulgarian origin. Kiroff confessed that, in the winter of 1935-36, he had taken delivery of the hashish on board the Strada-Ujnak at the Danubian port of Gurgiu in Roumania, at the request of "Sisko", who had directed him to convey it by boat to Galatz and hand it over to Garabet. The hashish was brought to the boat by Garabet. Some months later, the vessel put in at Galatz, Kiroff saw no sign of Garabet, however, for apparently he had gone to London, and been put in prison. Kiroff was unable to hand over the packet to Garabet and the packet found its way into Hungary. Kiroff asserts that he did not know what the packet contained and that he had not willingly sought to smuggle narcotics into Hungary.

Reference : O.C.S./Conf. 401.
31179/387. During the stay of the s.s. Nellore at Melbourne, Lam Hung, a member of the crew, was found in possession of a contrivance which apparently had been constructed for the purpose of holding contraband intended to be lowered overboard from the side of the ship to the water. The article was a pear-shaped bag about four feet long with an opening at the top large enough to permit the insertion of tins of opium. The opening was filled with a threaded plug and leather washer to prevent water entering the bag. The bag was also fitted with a waterproof lining and had been heavily tarred to prevent deterioration. Corks were fixed to the bag and to a light rope net around it so that, when the contrivance was lowered into the water, only a cork float would be visible above the water and only the net immediately beneath the surface, giving the impression of a fishing net. It is thought that an attempt was to be made by the use of the contrivance to get contraband (probably opium) away from the ship either at Melbourne or at some other port of call in Australia.

2. Persons implicated : Kok Sang, sailor on board the s.s. Gaasterkerk ; Jaana Catharina van Huizen ; Wilhelmus Denis.

3. The raw opium was seized on October 13th, 1937, in the possession of Kok Sang. It was not possible to ascertain the origin of the opium. On October 15th, 1937, Jaana van Huizen was arrested with the morphine ampoules in her possession. She stated that she had received them as a present from an officer on board the vessel Gothenhof, who lived at Stettin. This officer, however, had apparently found the ampoules in the house of a member of his family and had taken them with the intention of throwing them into the sea, and Jaana van Huizen, finding them in his office, had offered to destroy them for him, to which he had consented. Wilhelmus Denis was arrested in possession of the dicodide tablets which had been stolen from a consignment sent by the firm of Knoll A. G., at Ludwigshafen, on December 8th, 1931, to Barcelona, via Amsterdam. Denis died soon after the dicodide was seized.

4. Kok Sang was sentenced to imprisonment for two months.

Label on the heroin : "One onz. Sulphate de Heroin. Amestardam. No. 99, Germany."

2. Persons implicated : Ivan E. Bateman, John E. English, American citizens.

3. Bateman and English were arrested by Customs officers near Nogales, and a search of the automobile in which they were driving disclosed the above-mentioned drugs, together with an opium-pipe and two bowls. Bateman admitted that he was an opium-smoker and that the drugs seized were his. Further, that he had purchased them from a Mexican at a point near the International Boundary Line beyond where they were arrested. The label is obviously a clumsy forgery.

3. The naval authorities in Singapore advised the Excise Department that they had received information that two Chinese stewards on board the Defender were suspected to be smuggling opium to Singapore. As a result, the prepared opium was found in the Lieut.-Commander's bunk on board the vessel. A Chinese steward was arrested but was subsequently acquitted. There was strong suspicion that the opium had belonged to a Fukien "boy" who had been summarily dismissed for dishonesty shortly before the vessel sailed from Hong-Kong. Having failed to recover his property, it is thought that he had sent the anonymous letter to the Commodore, Hong-Kong, with the object of getting his successor into trouble.

Information was received that an attempt would probably be made to bring illicit prepared opium from Seletar to Singapore. Revenue officers were sent to stop and search all cars coming from the direction of Seletar and finally a car was stopped in which the accused were travelling and the opium found in a sack beneath the legs of the accused, who were sitting at the back of the car. Low Song Liang stated that the opium belonged to him and that it had been brought from Hong-Kong at his request on an Admiralty oil-fuel tanker by a friend of his working on the vessel whose name he refused to disclose. Tan Ah Mee was an ex-policeman who had been previously convicted for the possession of illicit opium. Two others were found carrying documents relating to dealings in illicit opium.

4. Low Song Liang was sentenced to rigorous imprisonment for eighteen months and the other five to rigorous imprisonment for thirteen months. All will be recommended for deportation when they have served their sentences.

The basket was carefully repacked. On March 15th, the passengers were released from quarantine and claimed their luggage. The rattan basket was claimed by a Wah Siang lodging-house runner, who was permitted to remove it. He was followed by revenue officers to the lodging-house and a watch was kept on the basket for thirty-six hours, but it remained unclaimed and was therefore removed to headquarters and examined. It was found to contain the prepared opium in question. There was no reason to suspect the runner nor the lodging-house proprietor of any guilty knowledge.

1281/388(453 and 455) 2. Persons implicated at Baltimore, Walter J. Peterson, Wesley L. Riley and Frank Kilburn ; at Norfolk, George Chapman

Reports Nos 738 and 740 3. Peterson and Kilburn were arrested at Baltimore while selling morphine cubes, and named Riley as their source of supply. Riley was arrested and about 70 cubes of morphine found in his possession. Riley stated that he was formerly a seaman on the City of Newport News and that, on his last trip on that vessel in November 1937, he obtained the morphine from a man in the de Gerre Bar and Hotel at Havre, France. He was introduced to this man by two other members of the crew, Charles Fladger and George Chapman, by the bartender of a saloon at Havre. When the City of Newport News reached Norfolk on February 11th, 1938, Customs officers searched Fladger and Chapman and found 17 grammes of morphine in the possession of Chapman. No drugs were found in Charles Fladger's possession. Chapman was questioned and stated that the morphine seized from him was a part of that which he had obtained in Havre in November 1937. He contended that it was part of the supply bought by Riley and denied that he had bought any morphine in Havre.

4. Riley was sentenced to two and a half years at the Lexington Narcotics Farm, while Peterson and Kilburn received sentences of fifteen months each at that institution. The case against Chapman is pending.

The boys removed the cover of the container and found several cardboard boxes wrapped in waxed paper. Not knowing the contents of the packages, the boys threw them into the river with the exception of one, which one boy kept and showed to a police-officer. Chemical analysis showed the contents to be morphine hydrochloride. It is believed that the container held between thirty-five and forty of these packages of morphine. The metal container in which the packages were found showed signs of weather stress. The top was rusted and the outside of the walls had been painted green, but the condition of the paint would lead one to believe that the container had been exposed to the elements for a long time.

2. Person implicated : David W. Smith, American.

3. Smith was arrested after he had sold 2 grammes of morphine to an informer. The rest was seized at his house. Smith stated that he had been employed as a cook on several vessels plying between the United States and France, and that, when in Havre, he approached George Anderson, the proprietor of the Viking Café, rue Victor Hugo, who took him to a man known as "Robert", who owned the "Rabbit" Café near the railroad depot. They all then went to a third café, on the rue President Wilson, from where "Robert" telephoned Paris. A man known as "George" then came to Havre from Paris and offered to sell a quantity of heroin to Smith. When he learned that Smith only wanted to purchase a small amount, he told him to do business with "Robert". Smith then purchased a 100-gramme box of morphine from "Robert". Anderson told Smith that "George" was the head of the dope peddlers and could give him good prices. The label on the blue cardboard box is almost identical in every respect with that on the packages of heroin seized from Alexander Rio at New York in January 1937,¹ which Rio admitted having obtained at Havre. After some questioning and, having been shown the photograph of Giuseppe Failla,² Smith admitted that Failla was the source of his supply of narcotics in Paris and Havre.

4. Smith was sentenced to three years in the Narcotic Farm at Lexington and placed on five years probation, to run from his release from the Narcotic Farm.

3. For the past two years, the authorities have been aware that Diacoumis and his sons were engaged in the illicit traffic and, on March 4th, having learnt that Diacoumis had recently purchased a quantity of heroin, it was decided to raid his shop and house. At the entrance to the shop, a small packet of heroin was found which had been dropped by Constantin Diacoumis when he saw the raiding party, who arrested him. The younger brother, Antoine, who was keeping watch at one end of the street, made off to warn his father, who had left the shop a few minutes before the raid. On finding two constables at the door of the house, he entered a grocer's shop in a lane near by and sent some potatoes to his sister Marika, who was in the house. She returned the potatoes saying that they were not needed, but the officer detained the carrier and found a note on him in Greek which read " It is with the potatoes, take it ". On examining the potatoes, a parcel was found containing a small pair of scales and the heroin and morphine in question. Evangelos Diacoumis was arrested later and Antoine was arrested in the grocer's shop. Both admitted their guilt on being questioned, but Constantin and Marika refused to make any statement.

4. Evangelos Diacoumis was sentenced to imprisonment for one and a half years and a fine of £E200 (3200 Swiss gold francs). Constantin was sentenced to imprisonment for one year and a fine of £E200. The other two were acquitted.

No. 1088 -- Seizure at Penang on March 19th, 1938. Report communicated by the Government of the United Kingdom, on June 20th, 1938.

Reference : O.C.S. 313 : 1. o. Cocaine hydrochloride : 1 kg. 136 grs. (approximately 400 grs.)

2195.87 In one wooden box containing five flat tins. Two of these tins were labelled "The Fujisawa Brand", and each contained about 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. The remaining three tins each contained a mixture of cocaine hydrochloride with some other drug, probably novocaine. The total weight of this mixture was about 31 oz. 880 grammes.

2. There were no arrests.

3. The cocaine was found underneath the bunch of hatch No. 5 on the s.s. Kum Sang, coming from Japan.

No. 1089 -- Seizures in Czechoslovakia during 1937. Report communicated by the Government of Czecho-Slovakia in its report on the illicit traffic during 1937.

Reference : O.C.S. 313 : 1. o. Cocaine and morphine.

2. About seventy-five names of traffickers were given in the report. The most important of these were the following : Zdenek Beneš¹; Joseph Vollon²; Rodolphe Kulhánek³; Pierre Košnář³; Frédéric Weigelt⁴; Walter Graff⁵; Frédéric Krystufek⁶; Zdenek Krehlík⁷; Joseph Sylvester⁸; Joseph Matuška⁹; Rodolphe Stasny¹⁰; Adalbert Volf.

3. There were forty-three cases reported. Only in three cases was the drug seized either pure cocaine or morphine. In most of the cases, it was adulterated with flour or boric acid, and, in many cases, there was no drug at all in the substance seized. Nine cases concerned the delivery of drugs by chemists without a prescription or in larger quantities than that prescribed for. Two concerned the giving of unnecessary prescriptions by doctors. Three concerned the falsification of registers by chemists, and one, the theft of the drug from a pharmacy. Six concerned persons employed in bars or cafés, nine concerned prostitutes, and nine were cases of addicts. The most important cases were the following : (1) On January 21st, confidential information was received that Joseph Sylvester was offering cocaine for sale. He was arrested and found in the possession of two flasks of cocaine, bearing the mark "Ciba" "Chemische-Industrie, Basel". He stated that he had received the drug from Joseph Matuška, employed in the post office at Chlubská, near Varnsdorf, and that he had deposited five other flasks and a tube of the same powder with his sister-in-law at Prague. Enquiries revealed that Rodolphe Stasny had been asked by Frédéric Weigelt to sell the cocaine for him in Prague and had appeared to consent. Stasny arranged with Sylvester to buy the so-called cocaine from Matuška, but Sylvester, in an interview with Matuška, declared himself a detective and, after having taken the seven flasks and one tube of the powder from Matuška, he let him go. It appears that Matuška, in order to obtain the drug, had taken money from the cash-box at the post office at Krásné Pole. Weigelt was sentenced to imprisonment for three days and Matuška for one year ; (2) Pierre Košnář, a chemist, having sold cocaine to a proprietor of a bar, was fined 500 crowns (650 Swiss gold francs) or imprisonment for twenty-one days. As it was found that the books of the pharmacy were very irregularly kept, Košnář was deprived of his licence as chemist ; (3) On February 12th, the authorities received confidential information that two German emigrants were selling cocaine in Prague. One of them was arrested with 30 grammes of cocaine in his possession, which he stated he had received from a photographer in Prague. This photographer declared that he had received gold francs); (4) The authorities had been advised several times that Frédéric Kryštufek, bar-porter at the "Turandot" bar in Prague, was selling cocaine to prostitutes. He was arrested on September 24th, and two small packets of cocaine mixed with boric acid were found on him. Kryštufek declared that he had obtained the cocaine from Beneš, and a search made at the premises occupied by Beneš resulted in the seizure of about 6 grammes of cocaine. Beneš stated that he had bought the cocaine from Adalbert Volf, a merchant, who was known as a seller of cocaine in touch with certain international traffickers. According to the statements made by Beneš, November 1935 and September 1938

was sentenced to a fine of 2300 crowns

days. Beneš was sentenced to a fine of 300 crowns (39 Swiss gold francs) and imprisonment for three days. Kryštufek was sentenced to imprisonment for five days; (5) As it was reported that cocaine was being sold to prostitutes in the old city of Prague, enquiries were set on foot and it was discovered that several of these prostitutes were in the habit of frequenting the bar "La Cave d'Or", where the porter sold them cocaine. A search was made in the said bar and thirty-three packets of cocaine were seized. The porter stated that he had obtained the cocaine from Walter Graf, who, in his turn, said that he had bought it from Beneš, paying 20 crowns a gramme and taking from 4 to 5 grammes a month for about six months. Graf was sentenced to a fine of 20000 crowns (2600 Swiss gold francs) or imprisonment for three months; (6) The authorities received information that cocaine was being brought into Prague and steps were taken to watch the house occupied by Frédéric Kryštufek and his wife, Gisèle. A person was seen to enter the house and, on coming out, he was arrested and questioned. He declared that he had made the acquaintance of Gisèle Kryštufeková at Teplice-Šanov, and that she had asked him to procure some cocaine. He

2. Person implicated : Wesley S Mills, American, fireman on the s.s. President Jefferson.

3. Mills was arrested after having sold cocaine to an informer. He stated that he had smuggled the cocaine ashore in his shoes after the arrival of the President Jefferson at Seattle on February 17th, 1938. He had obtained 1 oz. of cocaine in January 1938 from the proprietress of the Video Bar, in Kobe, and on previous occasions he had purchased cocaine and morphine from the Yokohama Dispensary at Yokohama. When he was last in Shanghai, morphine, cocaine, heroin and opium could be openly purchased in that city, and about 50% of the crew of the President Jefferson sniffed cocaine on board and smoked opium at smoking-joints in Hong-Kong.

4. Mills was sentenced to imprisonment for two years.

Reference : O.C.S./Conf 556 1 (a) Hashish : 1 kg. 925 gr. Origin : 1 kg 400 gr of Turkish origin ; 400 grammes probably of Lebanese origin 34046/388 3 There were four cases. 1 kg 400 gr were found in the possession of a passenger on a bus coming from Syria. It was probably intended for sale in Palestine. 200 grammes were found fixed on the lid of the tool-box on a lorry arriving from Syria. The offender confessed that he had brought the hashish for the personal use of a friend. 200 grammes were found above the compartment in front of the front seat of a car at the Customs station. It is believed that the driver of the car had brought it for the personal use of a friend. 125 grammes were found in a packet on the ground near the back seat of a bus from Beirut. The offender, who was sitting alone on the back seat, denied ownership.

4. In the first case, the offender was sentenced to imprisonment for two months. In the second, the offender was fined £P2 (30 60 Swiss gold francs). In the third case, the offender was sentenced to imprisonment for one month. In the fourth case, the charge against the accused could not be proved and the hashish was merely confiscated

2. Persons implicated : Issa Yousef Kobtan, of Acre ; Khalil el Haj Mahmoud el Fahham, of Jaffa ; Yousif Msallam ; Moussa Khalil Maalouli, of Zahleh.

3. There were four cases. 142 grammes of hashish were found in the pocket of Kobtan's trousers. He stated that the hashish was intended for his personal consumption. 2 kg 100 gr. of hashish were found concealed on the person of Khalil el Haj Mahmoud el Fahham, who had arrived by bus from Beirut. 7 kg. of hashish and 6 kg 400 gr of raw opium were found in a Lebanese car driven by Youssif Msallam. The suspicions of the Customs officer were aroused by the dead sound from the centre part of the benzine tank on its being tapped. On his removing and examining the tank, he discovered that it had been specially prepared for the carriage of contraband. The tank had been divided into three compartments, the outer compartment being filled with benzine and connected by a channel passing underneath the central compartment, which was filled with dangerous drugs. 19 kg. 500 gr. of hashish were found concealed in a compartment specially made for the purpose in a car arriving from Zahleh, Lebanon. The hashish was packed in small bags of cloth with an outer wrapper of rubber cloth, presumably to prevent the detection of the smell. The driver of the car, Moussa Khalil Maalouli, has been arrested, and the case has been passed to the police for necessary action.

2. Persons implicated : Suleiman Salem Abada, Attia Ahmed El Tabbakh, Ali Suleiman Hussein, Aly Mubarak.

3. Two cart-wheels were received at the Cairo Customs from Jaffa, and it was suspected that they contained hashish. The consignee, El Tabbakh, after completing the formalities, transported the wheels to the Egyptian State Railways Engineering Bureau, where he met a messenger who gave him money. Here, the agents of the Bureau intervened and arrested them both. They were taken to the Cairo Customs, where the wheels were broken and the hashish found hidden under the steel chamber. El Tabbakh stated that Aly Mubarak, an Arab of no abode, had asked him to receive the consignment and to meet him at Shoubra El Belad, near Cairo. He had met the messenger, who had lent him money in order that he might transport the wheels to Simbellawin, in Sharkia Province. The messenger denied having had any connection with the consignment. On examining the register of the hotel where Aly Mubarak had stayed, it was found that he had been there with Abada, who is a well-known trafficker at Simbellawin. Abada was therefore arrested and sent from Simbellawin to Cairo. Enquiries made by the Palestine police revealed the fact that the wheels in question were exported from Jaffa by Ali Suleiman Hussein.

4. Suleiman Salem Abada, Attia Ahmed El Tabbakh and Ali Suleiman Hussein were each sentenced (the last-named by default) to imprisonment for two years and a fine of £E400 (6400 Swiss gold francs).

Reference : O C S./313(g). 3. In April 1937, the police authorities in Osaka arrested a Korean drug addict who confessed he had committed a theft in order to procure drugs from Kiku Watanabe and several other peddlers. The Osaka Criminal Police arrested the suspected persons, and by April 21st forty-eight men were under arrest. Among them were twenty-three whose occupation was either chemist or licensed dealer in drugs or who formerly had had such a licence. Five persons absconded before they could be arrested. Altogether, one hundred and twenty persons have been arrested in connection with this case. It is not yet settled and police investigations are still going on.

Reports Nos. 525(a) and 586(a).

The United States Government forwarded the following information received from the Japanese Government in connection with this case, on March 14th, 1938 : As a result of enquiries made by the Japanese authorities, the following persons were arrested : Noa Makino, ex-seaman, living at Kobe ; Koshu Osugi, ex-seaman, living at Kobe ; Tatsuo Yamada, fireman on the Kozi Maru, living at Kobe ; Niichiro Nishino, helmsman on the Kosei Maru ; Shinjiro Shimizu ; Heijiro Sawaguchi, a broker who lent money under the name of Einosuke, living at Osaka.

Makino was closely acquainted with Genichi Yagi, implicated in the seizure at Seattle in April 1936. Yagi was asked by Toshiyoshi Nagai, one of the accused in the seizure at Los Angeles in October 1936, living at Seattle, to bring narcotics on the mail boat on the understanding that Nagai would purchase them at a high price. On his return to Japan, Yagi got into touch with the above-mentioned persons who determined to make money by smuggling narcotics to America. It was decided to pool the money for the purchase of narcotics and, using the word " ueki " as a code-word for narcotics, Makino had already established contact by letter with Nagai. At Osaka, Shimizu obtained morphine from Sawaguchi, which was secretly packed in rubber-coated bags and hidden on board the Kozi Maru, the Kosei Maru, the Hikawa Maru, the Keian Maru, and other boats going to America. The case is pending.

The French Government on January 28th, 1938, reported that, in connection with these two seizures, it has been impossible to identify the person who handed the opium to Pierre Juliau at Le Havre. Juliau had stated that it was given to him by one " Auguste ", who was first identified by the American authorities as Auguste Brining, stoker on board the s.s. Normandie. Investigations by the authorities of Le Havre, however, cleared Brining of complicity in the matter, and Juliau, when confronted with Brining in New York, failed to recognise him as the person who had supplied him with the opium. The person who handed the heroin to Georges Limacher and Henri Poncet, members of the crew of s.s. Normandie, has been identified as Joseph Mancuso, an Italian who has on various occasions supplied seamen with drugs. The French authorities have as yet been unsuccessful in their search on French territory for Mancuso, whose extradition has been requested by the United States.

The representative of the United Kingdom on the Opium Advisory Committee forwarded on March 3rd, 1938, the following information received from the Austrian representative concerning this case. The name of the person implicated in this seizure is Thomas Zonjić, not Thomas Zonzie, and it is incorrect for this person to represent himself as an Austrian national in view of the fact that the original passport Kata Zonjić, his wife Thomas Zonjić and their child, Marie, were entered on this passport as accompanying persons. This passport was issued by the former K k. Bezirkshauptmannschaft (District Office) of Metkovic in Dalmatia, on December 18th, 1900, for three years, and thus became invalid on December 18th, 1903. The passport can be considered only as proof of the fact that the Zonjics once possessed the right of citizenship in the Austrian part of the former Austro-Hungarian Monarchy, but not that they were ever citizens of the Austrian State which entered into existence in 1918. The name of Thomas Zonjić appears neither in the records of the Federal Police Directorate, Vienna, nor in those of the International Bureau at the seat of the Federal Police Directorate in Vienna. He was never registered at the police department in Vienna.

The Canadian Government communicated a supplementary report on this case on March 30th, 1938, the details of which are as follows : A long investigation was made in the early part of 1937 to establish the methods utilised and ascertain who were actually connected with Gordon Lim in this traffic. An agent was employed to get into touch with the suspects. On March 4th, 1937, the agent visited the Wat Sang Co, Chinese druggists and herbalists in Vancouver, of which company Gordon Lim was the proprietor. This company has a branch at Victoria. There he met Gordon Lim and three other Chinese and arrangements were made for a subsequent delivery of opium at only one witness appeared for the defence, whose evidence consisted mainly of the fact that he could not locate the other witnesses desired. For the Crown, three Hong-Kong Revenue officers and two Chinese gave evidence and a number of exhibits were entered which were ordered to be sent to Vancouver. On January 17th, 1938, the conspiracy charge was proceeded with at Vancouver and, on January 21st, all five accused were sentenced to life imprisonment for seven years. On February 2nd, they were tried on the charge of possession of opium and Chan Sing Jun and Lee Hoy were again sentenced to imprisonment for seven years, plus a fine of $500. Swiss gold coins. The trial in question as illegal possession was then proceeded with, but the jury could not agree and a new trial of all five of them, particular charge will commence early in March. Chan Sing Jun and Lee Hoy will be deported after serving their sentences. The other three will not be deported unless they are found guilty on the possession charge.

No. 882. — Seizure of Morphine, Salpheine Tablets and Codine Tablets at Port Angeles, Washington, on September 9th, 1907.

To Mr. Weston's knowledge this was the first time Dr. Dennerlein had endeavoured to obtain a repeat order on the strength of a letter physician's assistant drafted, being recommended by him to see a local physician. Dr. Dennerlein disclosed the fact that William Taylor obtained three prescriptions issued by Dr. C. Dennerlein, M.D., of Victoria on four occasions. Dr. Dennerlein further stated that he had since found out Holmes stated that he prescribed narcotics to Taylor when he found him to be an advanced case of tuberculosis. Dr. Dennerlein further stated that he had since found out Taylor, while a patient of his, was obtaining narcotics from Dr. T. W. A. Gray, a Victoria, Dr. Gray agreed with the diagnosis in regard to Taylor given by Dr. Dennerlein and stated that he had issued four prescriptions to Taylor for morphine sulphate which had been filled by the Victoria Pharmacy in Victoria. There appears to be little doubt William Taylor and Norman Eugene Kelly, one of the accused in this case, are the same person.

In regard to Babbitt, the second accused, there is a record on the medical files at Victoria, La., that this man, on July 24th, 1890, had endeavored to get a prescription for cocaine, which had been signed by a Terrebonne, Louisiana physician. Mr. Wm. H. Babbitt, of Victoria, which was duly filled.

B. NEW CASES OF SEIZURES.

1. RAW OPIUM.

No. 899. — Seizure at Vienna in July 1937. Report communicated by the Austrian Government, February 14th, 1938.

Reference : 1 (a). Raw opium : 62 kg. Yugoslav origin.
O.C.S./Conf. 491. 2. Persons implicated : David Stein, a commercial traveller of

3. On July 20th, 1937, Stein and Andjelić were arrested by agents of the Narcotics Bureau and searched. No drugs were found on them and they were immediately released. The enquiry, however, was continued and culminated in the arrest of Catherine Pancocchar, Tavas and Epstein. These three persons were arrested in a taxi when about to remove two trunks, one of which contained 31 kg. of raw opium. Further investigations implicated Facco, whose home was searched, several samples of morphine being discovered. Facco was arrested on September 14th, 1937. A police search at the house of Count Orssich de Slavetich led to the discovery of a second stock of raw opium of about 34 kg. Tavas confessed that he had received about 80 kg. of raw opium at the beginning of August, 1937, from Stein and Andjelić, which he was to sell in Vienna, and the authorities in Vienna learned from reliable sources that the whole affair had been financed by Janković.

4. Robert Facco was sentenced to six months imprisonment ; Franz Tavas to three months close arrest with a hard bed once a week ; Catherine Pancocchar to four months close arrest with a hard bed once a week ; George and Louise Orssich de Slavetich and Alfred Epstein each to two months close arrest ; Adam Artner to two months close arrest with a hard bed once a week ; in addition an expulsion warrant was issued against Franz Tavas and George and Louise Orssich. The opium was confiscated.

2. Persons implicated : Dimitri Kokonis, moneylender, posing as a flour-merchant, the financier of the gang (real name, Dimitri Ioannou Arkadiou) ; Photios Cominos, the intermediary between Kokonis and the gang ; Gaetano Scotto, an aviator who owned an aeroplane ; Minas Kathreptis, Greek ; Ali El Mattari, a Palestinian ; Abdulla El Gazzar, of Kantara ; Hamid El Gazzar, his partner at Port Said ; Mikhali Andonarakis and Mikhali Mousoris, Greeks ; Ali Hassan Saad.

3. About July 30th, 1937, the Port Said branch of the Bureau received information concerning a plan by which the accused intended to smuggle drugs into Egypt by aeroplane. After the receipt of this information, it was reported that Ali El Mattari had arrived at Port Said, and a few days later a number of smugglers visited him at his hotel. One of the confidants of the Bureau was instructed to get into touch with El Mattari and try to find out his plans. El Mattari introduced the confidant to Minas Kathreptis, Photios Cominos and Gaetano Scotto in a garden, and they stated that they had found a safe way to bring narcotics from Palestine to Egypt by aeroplane. It was arranged that Kathreptis was to go to Aleppo and to see the quality of the drugs ; if they were satisfactory, he was to send a letter to Cominos to tell him to send the aeroplane to receive the drugs. On August 7th, a letter was received that the drugs were ready and that the aeroplane should proceed direct to Aleppo. Cominos asked Scotto to get ready to leave by aeroplane, but Scotto stated that he could not go to Aleppo because he had to land in Palestine to refuel and because, on return, he would be obliged to land again to refuel and in all probability the authorities would search the plane. Therefore, it was agreed that Cominos should write to Kathreptis to transfer the drugs to

Palestine. Owing to some delay should leave by train, travel first of the window about 14 km. from aeroplane, collect the suitcase at Wassifia, where it would be handed over to the confidant, who would be waiting in a car. On September 1st, the C.N.I.B. confidant left by car for Wassifia and the Bureau arranged if possible, to witness Kathreptis should be he Bureau agents took car and opened both doors, which was a signal for the aeroplane. The Bureau force remained under cover until about 6, when it was obvious that something had gone wrong. At 6.30, as no aeroplane had arrived, they returned to Kantara. Meanwhile, Kathreptis had arrived on the train and been detained. Kathreptis and Cominos were detained, but nothing incriminating was found on them and, after a search party had been sent out, which met with no success, the detained persons had to be released. The O.C. of the Frontiers Section continued the search, and on September 2nd a telephone message was received stating that the suitcase had been found. The accused were re-arrested and their houses visited.

4 Ali Hassan Saad and Hamed El Gazzar were each sentenced to imprisonment for three years and a fine of £E500 (8000 Swiss gold francs). The accused persons of foreign nationalities have so far not been tried by their respective consular courts

Report No. 734. 3. A Customs Guard intercepted Mario Spalice as he was leaving the s.s. Conte di Savoia, and the morphine was found concealed in his clothing. Learning that he had a brother on board — Salvatore Spalice — this person was questioned and admitted that he had been given the morphine in Genoa by Colantonio, a former member of the crew of the Conte di Savoia, with instructions to deliver it in New York to Vincenzo. He had asked Mario Spalice to take it ashore and keep it for him until he could call for it. It is believed that Colantonio has engaged in smuggling narcotics into the United States on previous occasions, and a copy of this report has been transmitted to the Italian Government. Vincenzo could not be identified.

4. Mario Spalice was held in bail of $15000 (46500 Swiss gold francs) awaiting trial. The bond of Salvatore Spalice was fixed at $5000 (15500 Swiss gold francs). The difference in the amount of bail was because Salvatore Spalice assisted investigating officers while Mario deliberately lied to them.

2. Person implicated . Mrs. Margaret Florence Evers, American citizen

3. The police authorities at Anyang were informed by the Director of the Kuang Sheng Hospital, an American, that the hospital had received a telegram from Mrs. Evers announcing her arrival for medical treatment and that she had in fact arrived on July 6th. Her visit aroused suspicion, as there were many better hospitals in Peiping and Tientsin, where she lived and where she could have been treated. The police authorities went to the hospital and discovered the drugs in her suitcases. Mrs. Evers was arrested and handed over to the American authorities.

3. On August 27th, 1937, Coateval was arrested in Paris after a road accident and found to be in possession of a small package containing a few grammes of heroin. He gave his address at Creteil, Seine, where his wife was living. A search at this address led to no results, but further investigation showed that Coateval, under the name of Auguste Bodenan, had a room at No. 2, square de l'Aveyron, Paris. On September 11th, a watch was kept near this house and led to the arrest of Izelin and Beguelin, as they were entering the premises where Coateval lived. Izelin gave his name as Marcel Lavaucourt and two addresses at Nice and Valence. His address in Paris could not be traced, nor could that of Beguelin.

When arrested, Beguelin was in possession of a Swiss passport in his own name issued at Geneva on September 4th, 1937, and of a permit of residence for the Canton of Geneva. The three traffickers kept in close touch through a certain Benoist, a hotel and restaurant proprietor of 27, rue de Seine, Paris. It is not clear whether Benoist was an unconscious figure-head or an active accomplice. In any case, the correspondence between the traffickers was delivered at 27, rue de Seine, addressed to Benoist or to "Marcel", or "Charley" or "Auguste". Parts of this correspondence, together with a small laboratory outfit, including a special test-tube and 500 grammes of heroin, were discovered in Coateval's room at 2, square de l'Aveyron.

3. The three accused were arrested in the act of trafficking in drugs in Montmartre. Sabatier had the heroin in his possession, while Lucienne Dausin had the cocaine. These drugs, the origin of which is unknown, had been given to Lucienne Dausin and Sabatier by Felce for disposal among some 40 addicts who were regular customers. This is a case of local traffic, and it does not appear that Felce has any regular connection with the international traffickers known to the police.

Hill, Ben Norris, James Crumley, Dennis Sullivan, Madeline Hill ; all American citizens.

3. On various dates between April 13th and October 12th, 1937, narcotic drugs were either purchased or seized from Hilderbrandt and his confederates. Hilderbrandt has been known as a notorious drug trafficker in the Minneapolis area, and during the latter part of the year 1936 it was brought to the attention of the Bureau of Narcotics by the Canadian authorities that he was a source of supply for heroin which was making its appearance in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. Following investigation, sufficient evidence was obtained to cause the arrest on October 11th of Hilderbrandt and his associates.

4. William Hildebrandt was sentenced to imprisonment for twenty years and a fine of $3000 (9300 Swiss gold francs). Joseph Katz received a sentence of imprisonment for six years and a fine of $300 (930 Swiss gold francs). James Crumley was sentenced to serve seven months in the Minneapolis City Workhouse for contempt of court. Hildebrandt was likewise found guilty of contempt of court and given a sentence of one year and one day, to run concurrently with the twenty-year sentence previously imposed. The distributing organisation was headed by Carrera, La Gaipa, Al Mauro and Visco. Their headquarters were in New York City. The principal wholesalers concerned with the shipments from New York to southern points were Vincent Dimaggio and Nicholas Gentile. The transporters from New York to the south-west were almost entirely women directed by Mary Carusotto,

3. Following a seizure of morphine base, morphine and heroin from Pietro Quinto at New York on February 25th, 1935,¹ exhaustive investigations revealed that Quinto was one of a drug ring including the above accused. The explosion which occurred in the chemical laboratory of Dr. Quinto curtailed the activities of this ring, and Katzenberg, Lvovsky and Gross withdrew and organised a combination of their own. Information was obtained that McAdams and Hoffman had been accepting bribes from these smugglers to permit shipments of narcotic drugs to pass through the Port of New York without inspection. McAdams was dismissed from the Customs Service on May 9th, 1936. The smugglers, however, made arrangements with Begees and Barrett to assist them in smuggling subsequent shipments of heroin in a similar manner. In the summer of 1935, they got into touch with a notorious narcotic trafficker, Joseph Schwarz, who put them in touch with Yani Tsounias of Shanghai. Sam Gross was delegated to proceed to Shanghai, meet Tsounias, purchase some heroin and send it to the United States. 37 kg. of heroin were purchased from Tsounias, and this heroin was smuggled into New York by Nathan Gross in a wardrobe trunk, arrangements having been made with McAdams and Hoffman to affix a Customs stamp on the trunk which indicated that the trunk had been opened, inspected and approved, and could be removed by the owner. From October 1935 until February 22nd, 1937, members of this organisation made six trips to Shanghai and succeeded in smuggling into the United States an estimated total of 649 kg. of heroin at a total net profit of 519220 dollars (1609582 Swiss gold francs). According to the admissions of certain of the defendants, Tsounias procured his supply of drugs from Tientsin.

4. Jacob Lvovsky was sentenced to imprisonment for seven years and a fine of 15000 dollars (46500 Swiss gold francs). Sam Gross was sentenced to imprisonment for six years and a fine of 15025 dollars (46577 Swiss gold francs). Josef Schwarz is at present being held in the Santé Prison in Paris, pending the receipt by the French authorities of a formal request for his extradition to the United States. Jasha Katzenberg has been apprehended in Greece and is in jail in that country, where he will be held until a formal request for his extradition to the United States is received. The cases against the other accused are pending.

1 (a). Heroin : 2 kg. 13 gr. (4 lb. 7 oz.). No labels.

2. Person implicated : Louis Lanlo, French citizen, steward in the third-class section of the s.s. Champlain.

3. The United States Government reports that on November 17th, 1937, Lanlo was searched by a Customs guard at the pier at New York at which the vessel was docked and five packets of heroin were found concealed under an elastic girdle he was wearing. Lanlo stated that the packages had been given him by a passenger on the vessel with instructions to deliver them to a person who would meet him at the corner of 48th Street and 9th Avenue, New York. He was permitted to stand at this corner for a reasonable period, but, no one approaching him, he was taken back on board the ship and his quarters searched. Five additional packages of heroin were found concealed underneath the bottom panel in a wall locker in a stateroom under Lanlo's care.

The French Government states that enquiries are at present being made with a view to identifying the person who gave the heroin to Lanlo, and that the wrapping of the packages containing the heroin is identical with that of the packages found in the possession of Solliez.²

It thus appears that the drug given to the two seamen has the same origin and was probably given to them by the same person.

4. Lanlo was sentenced to four years' imprisonment.

Report No. 724. 3. In October 1937, information was obtained that Caruso, a notorious narcotic trafficker, was proceeding to Europe, with the result that, when Caruso returned to New York on November 23rd on board the Berengaria, his baggage was subjected to a thorough search and the heroin found in a false compartment of a trunk belonging to him. He was immediately arrested. The lining of the trunk containing the false compartment is identical in design with the lining of the trunk seized from Vincenzo Di Stefano.¹ This seizure has been brought to the attention of the French Government, and it is understood that Caruso's associates in France are being investigated. Caruso is being held in default of bond awaiting trial.

The 111 grammes seized at New York were labelled "Chee Sau Wan" cough pills and came from Canton. They were part of a shipment of various items of merchandise consigned to a company in New York. A member of this company was, Seized at Washington, D.C. : 7140 pills containing 0.10% anhydrous morphine and labelled "Dr. Tang Shih Yee".

Seized at Seattle, Washington : 2 kg. 104 gr. (74 oz.) ; 1 kg. 904 gr. labelled "Dr. Tang Shih Yee" and containing 0.06% anhydrous morphine; 200 grammes labelled "Ho Hang Woo Rheun Cough Pills, manufactured by Ho Hang Woo, Canton" and containing 0.28% anhydrous morphine.

Seized at San Francisco : 1 kg. 903 gr. (67 oz.) containing traces of morphine (less than 0.05%) and labelled To Tong (or To Tung Yuen, manufactured by Soo Shin Sang, Canton).

3. The pills were seized at Washington, D. C., when their morphine content was ascertained. Following the seizure, a Customs officer called at the shop of the Tuck Cheong Co., the consignees, and interviewed one of the partners, who turned over to the officer one bottle of Dr. Tang Shih Yee pills, the only remaining bottle in stock. On January 17th, 1938, Customs officers again called on the company for the purpose of making a thorough check of the stock, but the only person present seemed to be under the influence of drugs, and a search warrant was therefore obtained. A thorough search of the premises was made and various small quantities of prepared opium, heroin and morphine hydrochloride, together with twelve hypodermic needles, were found. Lee Bing, the clerk in the shop, admitted ownership of the drugs and was arrested. He is being held in default of bond, awaiting trial. Since it has been ascertained that he is in the United States illegally, he will probably be deported to China.

At Seattle, the pills were found in the baggage of two third-class passengers, who had listed them in their declarations, and readily signed abandonment certificates when the pills were retained by the Customs. No criminal action is contemplated against these persons.

At San Francisco, the pills, on being found to contain traces of anhydrous morphine, were retained by the Customs, but no prosecution was made.

3. On November 9th, 1937, a corporal of the British Army was like to earn some mon would have to take a with the person who

and the Arab took him to a bungalow situated on the Lydda Civil Airport ground. There he met an Englishman, who asked him to take a parcel containing hashish to Egypt, and offered him £90 sterling for his part in the transaction. When all details had been arranged, the corporal informed his commanding officer and was instructed to carry on with the matter as arranged. On November 18th, the corporal arrived at Kantara West and met the traffickers to take over the hashish. Immediately this had been done, the accused were arrested. The Palestine police were informed of the arrest and requested to take such action as might be possible against any implicated persons in Palestine.

4. Teufik Moussa Abu Meealek was sentenced to imprisonment for two years and a fine of £E300 (4800 Swiss gold francs). The other two accused were each sentenced to imprisonment for one year and a fine of £E200 (3200 Swiss gold francs).

1 (a). Hashish : 1 kg. 100 gr.

2. Persons implicated : Ibrahim Kouta ; Nafar Clerk Mohd. Mohd. Soliman Bahr ; Onbashi Hassan Refae Mustafa : Nafar Ibrahim Ramadan Abu Hussein.

3. On September 9th, 1937, a policeman of the Port Police, Port Said, reported that ex-policeman Ibrahim Kouta (recently dismissed from the Police Service for smuggling) had approached him, suggesting that he should join Kouta's gang, which was engaged in the illicit traffic of drugs from Palestine. The policeman was authorised to join the gang, and a meeting took place in his house which was attended by Kouta and a second policeman of the Port Police, who was instructed to proceed to Lydda to take over a quantity of hashish which was to be brought to Kantara. On arrival at Kantara the consignment was to be taken over by Onbashi Hassan Refae Mustafa and Nafar Clerk Mohd. Mohd. Soliman Bahr, who would take it to Nafar Ibrahim Ramadan Abu Hussein at Kantara West for conveyance to Port Said and delivery to Kouta. On September 26th, the second policeman went to Kantara, acting as orderly to the passport officer controlling the train from Palestine. On his arrival at Kantara, Onbashi Hassan Refae Mustafa handed him the sum of £E5, which he was told to give to a certain person at Lydda against the delivery of 1 kg. 250 gr. of opium. The policeman was unable to make contact with the trafficker at Lydda, and travelled again to Palestine on September 30th. On arrival at Lydda he was met by a railway watchman, who took him to his house at Ramleh and handed him three samples of hashish, which he was to give to Nafar Clerk Mohd. Mohd. Soliman Bahr. He then returned to headquarters. On October 4th, he again went to Palestine with an order to bring back 1 kg. 250 gr. of hashish, but received instructions from the authorities not to go any farther in this matter until further instructions had been received. On October 5th, he returned from Palestine and informed the Onbashi that he had been unable to meet the trafficker in Palestine. The Onbashi informed him that he had some hashish he wanted delivered to Kouta at Port Said and told him where the hashish was hidden. It was arranged that this hashish should be handed to him in time for him to catch the train for Port Said. The policeman reported these facts to the authorities, and at the time appointed, when the Onbashi appeared with the hashish, he was arrested.

4. Onbashi Hassan Refae Mustafa was sentenced to imprisonment for two years and a fine of £E400 (6400 Swiss gold francs). The other two accused were acquitted.

1 (a). Hashish : 600 grammes. Indian origin.

2. Person implicated : Domingues Caitano Rodrigues, Portuguese, butcher on board the Elyse.

3. On the receipt of secret information that the accused had in his possession a quantity of Indian hashish, the Port Said authorities went on board the vessel on her arrival at Port Said. A confidant was instructed to approach the accused, and he agreed to a transaction at £E15 per kg. The accused then proceeded to the refreshment room and returned with a packet in his hands. He was then arrested and the packet was found to contain the hashish. The refreshment room was searched, but no further drugs were found. Rodrigues stated that he had bought the hashish at Karachi for the purpose of selling it at Port Said.

4. Rodrigues was sentenced to imprisonment for one year and a fine of £E200 (3200 Swiss gold francs).

at Istanbul. 29 grammes of hashish and 30 grammes of raw opium were found in the possession of an Egyptian on board the British s.s. Eocene. 10 kg 390 gr. of hashish were found on two coasting vessels. The rest of the hashish was seized during searches made on the premises occupied by the accused. 4 kg. 450 gr. of raw opium were found in a wallet carried by an individual at Istanbul. 5 grammes of heroin were seized from a dentist who was arrested at his office in the act of selling the drug. Another individual, on finding himself followed by police agents, took a small packet out of his pocket and swallowed it. It is presumed that the packet contained heroin. 20 centigrammes of heroin were found in the possession of a woman.

4. The following sentences were passed on the accused. Two individuals were sentenced to imprisonment for two years and one month and a fine of £T7125 (17100 Swiss gold francs) each; one to imprisonment for one year and two months and a fine of £T207 (496 Swiss gold francs); one to imprisonment for one year and one month and a fine of £T188 (451 Swiss gold francs); two to imprisonment for one year and fines of £T3700 and £T3800 (8880 and 9120 Swiss gold francs) respectively, and two to imprisonment for six months each. In two cases, the person concerned escaped, and in two other cases no result of the judicial proceedings was given. Seven cases were still pending.

1281/388(442). 3. Cubillos was seen leaving the pier at Honolulu carrying a coat over his arm which appeared to be loaded. He visited the Anchor Report No. 731. Café near the pier, and while there he gave a package wrapped in newspaper to a barmaid for safe keeping. He then returned to the s.s. Maunawili, which was docked at the pier. Upon again leaving the dock he was placed under arrest, and this time eight tobacco tins were found in his coat and six tobacco tins round his waist. The package previously placed in the Anchor Café contained twelve similar tins. They all contained cannabis. Subsequent search by the Customs officers disclosed in the defendant's quarters on the Maunawili a small leather handbag which contained an additional nineteen tins also containing cannabis. The cannabis was obtained from an unknown Mexican at San Francisco on December 19th, 1937.

4. The defendant is being held for prosecution.

Note. — Seizures of Indian hemp drugs were also made in connection with the following cases, which included seizures of other drugs and which have been summarised under the appropriate headings :
